

Short Biosketch

Nick Macklon

Nick Macklon qualified in medicine and underwent specialist training in Obstetrics and Gynaecology in Edinburgh for moving to Glasgow for his doctoral research and lectureship post. After a fellowship at Erasmus University in Rotterdam he was appointed head of the ART unit there. In 2005 he was appointed Professor of Infertility and Periconceptional Medicine at the University Medical Centre, Utrecht, The Netherlands, and Head of the Department of Reproductive Medicine and Gynaecology, before returning to the UK in 2009 to the Chair in Obstetrics and Gynaecology at the University of Southampton where he is also Scientific Director of the Complete Fertility Centre. In April 2016 he was appointed to a Chair in Obstetrics and Gynaecology in Copenhagen. He is a member of the ESHRE Executive Committee and Associate Editor of Human Reproduction Update.