

Tarek El-Toukhy is a Consultant in Reproductive Medicine and Surgery and Pre-implantation Genetic Diagnosis (PGD) at the Assisted Conception Unit at Guy's and St. Thomas' Hospital in London. His clinical and research interests are in the fields of PGD, recurrent IVF failure, prevention of ovarian hyperstimulation syndrome and minimal access reproductive surgery. He is a member of the RCOG, British Fertility Society and The European Society of Human Reproduction and Embryology (ESHRE). He has published over 100 original articles, book chapters, reviews and opinion papers. He is a scientific editor for BJOG International and peer-reviews for a number of medical journals.